Product Description

PVC Vinyl Siding is a modern manner of finishing the external facade from 1950s' in. It features a beautiful appearance and provides easy assembly and use. It is called revestimiento de pvc in Spanish. It is an engineered product, manufactured primarily from un-an PVC resin. In the UK and New Zealand a similar material is knoplasticizedpolyvinyl chloride (UPVC) resin which is more safety and stable than PVC resin. In the UK and New Zealand a similar material is known as UPVC weather boarding. This "dry" technology allows It is used for new houses decoration and weatherproofing, imitating wood clapboard , and used replacing your old exterior wall, materials like aluminum composite, wood, ceramic, or fiber cement.
